

Overview

Efficiency Maine is offering its most generous residential rebate yet to income-eligible owners of single-wide mobile homes, also referred to as manufactured homes. If you currently heat with propane or kerosene, you could pay as little as $2,000 for a new ducted heat pump system. Projects must be pre-approved by Efficiency Maine and completed by a participating installer. Upgrading to high-efficiency heat pumps can help reduce heating costs, provide cooling in the summer, and save money.

Eligibility

Homeowner

- Homeowner or homeowner's household member must be a verified recipient of MaineCare or HEAP or SNAP or TANF, or household income must be 80% or less of the median income for the county in which the home is located. See back for details.
- Homeowner must agree to the removal of existing heating system (included in project cost)
- Homeowner must have an active email address

Building

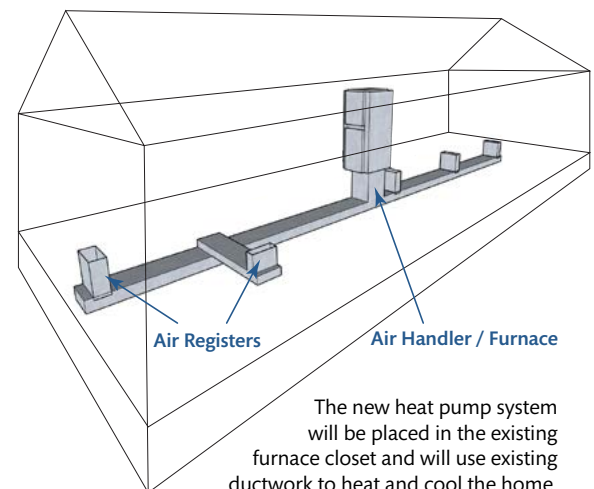

- Single-wide mobile home only
- Homeowner's principal, year-round residence
- Home must be presently heated entirely by kerosene or propane
- Home must be located on the designated towns list. The list of designated towns will be updated over time, reflecting areas of the state that have suitable outdoor temperatures and contractor services to support the special needs of this program. Homes located in towns that are not listed on this table are not eligible at this time.
- Home must not have an existing heat pump
- Efficiency Maine will conduct a free assessment to determine if the ducted heat pump is suitable for the home. If the home is not suitable due to excess heat loss, underbelly damage, or compromised ductwork, the customer has the option to take advantage of insulation rebates up to $8,000 before potentially continuing with the initiative.
- Furnace closet must be 18 inches or wider to fit heat pump system

Financing Available

Homeowners must contribute to the cost of the project. They have the option of paying $2,000 toward the project up front, or can finance the required project contribution with a loan offered by Efficiency Maine. See efficiencymaine.com for details.
